THE LESSON OF SEATTLE

PORTLAND, TUESDAY FEB 9 1886.

Order is heaven's first law, and it is the first law of men. It is the foundation of human so-ciety Maintenance of order takes precedence even of obtainment of bread, for bread itself, and all other things depend on law, order and capital, from which wages must be paid, in such make investments wait till the storm has blown

The leadership of every movement that tends riolence is extremely apt to fall into the hands of man who possess neither character nor re-possibility. Likewise it attracts all who have soth ng to lose, but inink they may have something to gain, by setting aside the conditions of order and the restraints of law. The buldest, in speech, are those who have least stake a settled conditions of society and such very soil of whom this paper has given some account heretofere.

diany who encourage this kind of thing at its despition find themselves unable to control it, and room are astonished, and even appalled, at uble there are some who think the Chinese may be compelled, by intimidation, to leave Portland fully adopted" at other places than Tacoma, and it has iterated and nationated this till purhaps that such movements as that at Seattle—the very thing it has been commending again and agair,—"are greatly to be reg etted," ina-much as there "is tanger that they will retard more than they will advance the cause." evan bogus journalism is not who ly emperviou from Puget sound began two or three months THE ORRGONIAN was as well assured of fact as it is now. And it said so To press the effort on the same line at Portland will inevitably lead to the like result. We want order at Portland, without the volley of musketry Give peace, without sacrifice of life

To assure this every notion that may be entertained of expelling the Chinese by force must be attandened. From the very first THF 187-60-LIN has said what it now rejeats, that the only legitimate method of inducing the Chinese to "go" is that of pressing them quietly out of employment by offering white labor to their room—not, Indeed, it wages that Chinese are often willing to accept, but at fair and mederate wages. What is pled necessary as a part of them cane of supplanting Chinese is a disposiwork to act with fidelity in their employments and to study the interest of the remployers. senttle and at Portland propose and advise, al ways ends by bring ng upon the scene him whom the French call Captam Antraille—But even he settles nothing but the question who her order or disorder-shall prevail After him, in this case, the question as to the Chinese will still remain to be set led by reasonable meth-ods—only it will be more difficult than before. For these reasons THE ORDSONIAN has uttered frame into speech, against a reckless, vio ent tainly introduce disorder and betray a people to ners to depart, not to permit themselves the misled and beirayed further by a leatership regaltet whose methods society is bound by its secure both, to protect and defend itself. land does not want and must not have a repe-tition of Seattle's scene!

(.EN, HOWARD AND HIS FRENCH DECORATION

Cur government has declined to: permit tien. Howard of the army to accept a decoration of the Legion of Honor and the brovet rank of tendered to him by the French government. In the summer of 1884 the United States was invited with other nations to send representatives from its army to witness the manageners of the Seventeenth Corps des d'Armes, tren Howard and Leout Wisher (the latter is now stationed at Vancouver barracks). to attend as our representatives. They did so and were received with especial courtesy. As a compliment to the United States and as a recog-nition of his military services in his own country it was decided to bestow upon Gen. Howar i the high at decoration in the gift of the French republic. The decision of the national league was fermally made known to tien. Howard in a letter bearing the national scal of France and a coed by the commander of the national league and by the grand secretary of the order Underby the grand secretary of the order Understanding the requirements of the United States laws on the subject from Howard wrote for the permission to accept, and after long delay it has

Others of our distinguished comman lors in the late war have been allowed to receive foreign bonors, and the case of Gen. Howard seems an unkind distinction, particularly as our overnment has been tardy in rewarding the services thus recognized abroad.

Speculation as to the promotion to follow tien rope's retirement next month has revived the slanders against Gen. Howard. Among other critical references we have seen several to his luddan work while in command of this de-par ment. And right here, spanking whereof tien Pope's retirement next month has revived par ment. And fight here, speaking whateon we snow, we wish to say that Gen Howard's conjuct of the Nez Peros and Bannock wars was admirable as to yourge, soldiership and energy.
